

THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT

"THIS IS THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT"

“A little nonsense now and then
Is relished by the best of men.”

This is the House that Jack built.

This is the Paint that lay in the House that Jack built.

This is the Brush that applied the Paint
That lay in the House that Jack built.

This is the Painter that wielded the Brush
That applied the Paint
That lay in the House that
Jack built.

This is the Boy, with trousers worn,
Who bothered the Painter
every morn
That wielded the Brush
That applied the Paint
That lay in the House that
Jack built.

This is the Mother, all careworn,
That reared the Boy, with trousers worn,
That bothered the Painter every morn
That wielded the Brush
That applied the Paint
That lay in the House that
Jack built.

This is the metal-backed shoehorn
That the Widowed Mother, all careworn,
Applied to the Boy, with trousers worn,
That bothered the Painter every morn
That wielded the Brush
That applied the Paint
That lay in the House that Jack built.

This is the smile by the Painter worn
That married the Widow, all careworn,
That laid on the metal-backed shoehorn
That blistered the boy, with the trousers worn,
That bothered the Painter every morn
That wielded the Brush
That applied the Paint
That lay in the House that
Jack built.

Oh! this is the famous CHILTON Paint,
With colors strong and colors faint,
That never wears out,
That never grows dim,

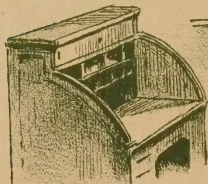

That protects both the sides of the house and the trim,

That paints a Church,

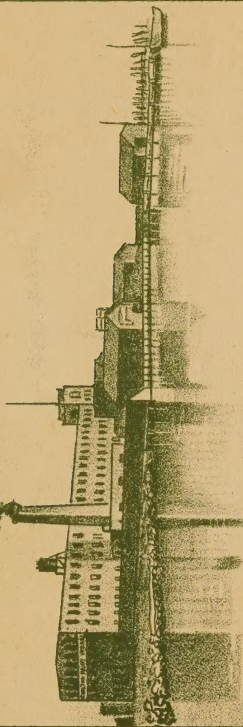

A Railroad Train,

A Steamship of the raging main,

A floor, a chair, an old brick wall:
In fact, paints anything at all.

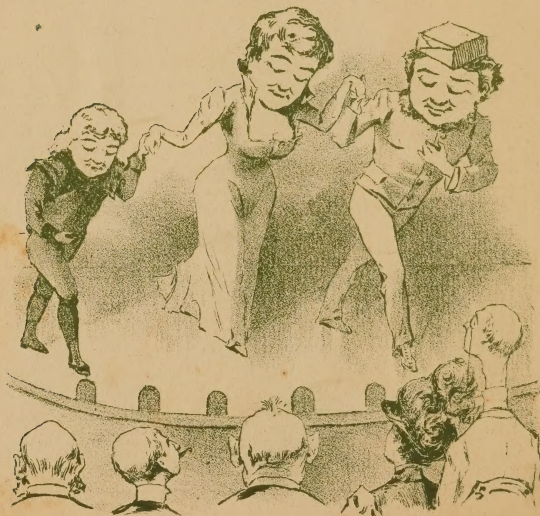

FACORY OF THE CHILTON PAINT CO COLLEGE POINT NEW YORK CITY

Now, this is a nonsense book forsooth
That tells but a fraction of the truth
Concerning these paints; if you wish more
In the way of Modern Painters' lore,
Why, write for our books of common sense,
And we'll supply you without expense.
